Significant Items for Next Week

Internal to Region 9

Virtual RTOC Meeting: The RTOC meeting scheduled in Carson City January 24-26 will be a virtual meeting due to weather. Information on how to participate will be shared with the Regional Indian Program Steering Committee and registered attendees. Please contact Laura Ebbert (x73561) or Ruben Mojica Hernandez (x23268) for more information.

WPS Implementation - Industry Focus: Deliberative Process (b) (5)

The January 18 meeting is hosted by the Napa County Agricultural Commissioner's Office, with approximately 90 participants registered for the English session, and 95 for the Spanish session. The January 19 meeting is hosted by the California Weed Science Society. Attendees in both meetings will include supervisors, employers and other representatives from the agricultural production industry. This is an outreach effort in partnership with our state and local regulatory partners. (Estrada x23493, Wilcoxon x74205)

ADEQ Returns to UST Compliance: ADEQ reported they conducted 1,070 UST inspections in 2016. They are now caught up with the mandatory 3-year inspection cycle. In 2017, the agency will focus on risk-based significant non-compliance facilities and visit them more often, while maintaining the EPA's 3-year cycle. ADEQ has five full-time UST inspectors and continues to request EPA support in interpreting and planning inspections for the new Fuel Hydrant Systems and Field Constructed USTs regulation. (Jamison x23365)

Henderson, NV Local Foods, Local Places Action Plan: We delivered the final EPA Local Foods, Local Places Report and Action Plan to the City of Henderson and its local partners. The detailed action plan is designed to generate more economic opportunities for local farmers and businesses, create better access to healthy local food, especially among disadvantaged groups, and help revitalize downtown Henderson. This technical assistance was part of the Making a Visible Difference in Communities initiative in the Las Vegas Valley. (Stollman x23729)
